

If a picture is worth a thousand words...then LYNX is worth Millions!

Walk every project right from your pc, or mobile device. Use any web browser to look at all your jobsite photos. View, search and print work in progress, work completion to verify payments, and go back in time to any point or critical path!

When finger pointing starts, you will be able to instantly go back in time and “SEE” exactly what occurred when, and by whom!

- Use your Internet phone to see what's going on right now (or any device with Internet access)
- Compress and manage all of your digital photos from all of your projects in one, secure database
- Communicate your photos to anyone in the world instantly
- Link project images to other third party applications (that allow hyperlinks)

Good visual documentation is the most important form of documentation you can have. It is not subject to interpretation like written documentation.

Make sure you have reliable secure visual information available when you need it.
